Guidelines - Summary

The Industry Development program is dedicated to enhancing the skills and growth of practitioners from all backgrounds in the local film, television, and digital games industries. Industry Development supports skills development, targeted training, and capacity building in various roles across gaming and linear screen to meet the needs of both local and visiting productions. This program ensures practitioners can meet production demands and maintain a steady pipeline of high-quality work.

SUMMARY

Funding support is available to eligible applicants for short course fees where theoretical and practical education can assist in a practitioner's screen or gaming career journey.

At a glance:

- Funding is available for 50 per cent of the course fee.
- This will be capped at $2,000 per person, per financial year.
- These courses will be approved by Screen Tasmania's Industry Development team based on the priorities of skills shortages.
- If the course aligns with current below-the-line gaps in critical shortage, consideration will be given to funding 100 per cent of the tuition fees.

Courses that relate to crew gaps in critical shortage include: • Costume • Hair and Make-up • Production Manager • Production Co-ordinator • Locations Manager • First Assistant Director • Art Director • Editor • SFX Supervisor • Sound Designer • Shooter/Producers (Unscripted)

Please refer to the new Industry Development Guidelines 2024 for more details about eligibility and assessment.
